The Song of Nestor, Part I

Excerpt from the Corpus Galacticum, 137th edition

TALDERON ERA

In the centuries that followed the Ethnopecuniary Wars in the 9th millennium, violence and chaos ruled most civilizations in the galaxies. The extensive displacement of the various inhabitants of the known civilizations became identified as the age of Anarchic Disarray. That is when Minders (beings capable of reading and influencing the minds of most species in the universe) emerged, and with them the struggle for power took center stage.

During the 1st Century TE (Talderon Era)—680 centuries before Kelahya's birth—the Incorporeal Fellowship arose in an effort to establish universal order. Two Minders - Nestor (the creator of the Talderon Ideals) and Poliate (the founder of the Alliance of Stars) - were ordained to lead in their respective domains.

Sing to Me Stars, The Song of Nestor, The Great Minder.

The following narrative is conveyed directly by Nestor

Foundation

As I pen on these pages the nature of my existence, it is with the sole purpose of manifesting the three principal events that molded the core of my being, and defined the trajectory of my anointed journey.

Unearthing the Hallandahall Scrolls from the vaults of planet Ziud is of primary importance in my development. Those ancient texts vastly enlightened my spirit, and imparted focus to my task as creator of the Talderon Ideals. As transcendent leader it fell to me to disseminate the Ideals and enlighten all creatures throughout the universe.

Yielding to the ecstasy of love with Ariadina opened my senses to the more profound implications of a harmonious existence. For it is she who ingrained in me the need to comprehend the oneness of Ousía. Ariadina, my soul mate and life-long companion in spirit, intellect, and passion, embodies the purity of harmony—an Ideal reachable by all creatures in the cosmos. Without her, my spiritual evolution would be incomplete.

Immersion into the ageless wisdom of Master Prophet Talderon enriched my understanding of the mysticism of bygone times, the chaos of the existent interval, and the auspicious future that all are meant to share.

And lastly, my friendship and partnership with Poliate, yielded the peace and unity in the universe we had toiled intensely to achieve.

I shall attempt to depict succinctly how I came into being, and describe the key essentials that I consider to be most worthy of note.

Countless millennia had passed within a universe that had survived solely by the grace of Ousía. Many a time it teetered on the brink of destruction, only to emerge renewed with the anticipation of a fresh resurgence, before plummeting once more toward annihilation.

It was during its last rebirth, at the dawn of the 1st Century of what was to be named the Talderon Era (TE), that I came into being. A child intended to bring about spiritual and social balance.

The site of my physical birth was planet Ziud, in the galactic cluster of Ontah. My unexpected appearance in the arms of my adoring parents, brought about immeasurable joy for them and, as I grew up, an appreciation for the extraordinary gifts that only the stars could have bestowed upon me. My mother, a Xalandrian beauty, endowed me with grace and tenderness, while my father, a Dionysian, gifted me with strength and intellect. They named me Eriandan, son of Harlaren and Seidinte.

My childhood presence in the home of my parents, came to an abrupt end upon the celebration of my fifteenth cycle of life, when the Clerics of the Incorporeal Fellowship summoned me to their presence. That was also the moment when my training as spiritual leader commenced.

It is not an exaggeration to relate that, within a short time, it fell to me to become their guide. "You are a Minder, the likes of which we have never experienced before," the Clerics voiced. "As you learn and grow, you shall impart your erudition upon us."

The stars had granted me the power to enter the minds of all species in the universe and the ability to absorb languages and idioms. As I voyaged across the galaxies and dwelt amongst the countless species residing in distant or adjoining planets, my capacity to comprehend the manner by which different civilizations crafted their spiritual uniqueness and social norms expanded. As the notion of universal order took shape within my soul, my spiritual path became inescapable.

The Great Guide. The Minder, Nestor.

The Hallandahall Scrolls

In late adolescence, I returned to Ziud in time to bid a final farewell to my mother. It was during this last visit to my home planet that I perceived the presence of the Hallandahall Scrolls.

The task of unearthing the Scrolls from the buried vaults fell to me for two primary reasons. First, to heighten my knowledge and understanding of the genesis of the universe, and second, to provide me with guidance for the creation of the Talderon Ideals.

The Scrolls had been penned thousands of cycles before, by not one but numerous ancient sages and scholars, each relating a moment, or event, or story that needed to be preserved. With the passage of time, many Scrolls suffered serious deterioration, and not all could be rescued. But those that did survive, provide priceless revelations that informed me with divine guidance.

By virtue of their content, the Scrolls currently dwell under the protection of the Incorporeal Fellowship, and are accessible only to the High Clerics.

Several mythologies depicted within the Scrolls, are permitted to be issued in order to enlighten the minds of those who seek progression, but only during limited and alternate periods.

This First Song (which I offer in three parts) was dispersed some time ago, and I shall distribute others at varying occasions in the times to come.

Part II will be offered next and it depicts my discovery of love.
